It must be acknowledged that Toronto is well supplied with Dry Goods Establishments. We have houses engaged in this line of business that are not only a credit to the city, but to the Dominion, and that would not lose anything in being placed alongside many of the leading firms of the large cities in the neighboring Republic., Of our Dry Goods and Millinery Establishments, that of Mesers. G. & J. W. Cox & Co. may justly be called one of the most enterprising. Their house is certainly one of the best in Toronto, for the simple reason that in point of size, amount of trade, and immensity of stock, it is one of the largest in the city. The well known sign of the house is the Colden Bonnet, which is a conspicuous object on King Street Cast directly opposite St. James Cathedrel. The calent of the premises will at once be seen when we state that may occupy Nos. 115, 117, 119 and 121, thus taking in what would form four ordinary establishmen and constituting one of the largest and most extensive retail houses in the Dominion of Canada. Occupying such unusually large premises, of course the business done by the house is of a correspondingly extensive character. This is indeed to be tast. "The Eddon Bonnet" is known for and wide, and the reputation of the firm is second to that of no firm in the city. The trade they do with residents of Toronto is very great, yet it is of comparative insignificance alongside the country trade of the house, which is unsurpassed by any house in the Dominion. The Messrs. Cox understand the true secret of success in trade, and have mastered the philosophy of making money by pursuing a legitimate and straightforward course. Every genuine business men known that in judicious advertising the grand secret of commercial success has hidden. Advertising is an art; simple as it may seem ; and it requires a man of keen perception, tact, judgme and a peculiar ability to advertise in such a way as to reach the public successfully, and receive in such a reward commensurate with the outlay and labor expended. There are many business men in Toronto who understand not only the theory

ä

but the practice of judicious advertising, and foremost among them are the proprietors of f The Golden Bonnet." We have never spoken to them on the point, nor have we in any way learned what their views are, yet we feel convinced that if asked to what they chiefly attribute their success in business and their present high commercial standing, they would answer, in the words of Barnum, "To a judicious use of printer's ink."
In their advertisements they never attempt to secrive or mislead the public of if they advertise chesp goods, they are chesp goods, if they announce anything special, it is to be found in their establishment when saked for. By pursuing this source they have gained the confidence of the public, and so ong as that confidence remains unshaken, their business must prosper and prosper and grow more extensive day by dayvisit to their establishment is sufficient to satisfy any one of its extent, and of the immense business done therein. The stores they occupy are excellently fitted up, are kept in the most perfedt order and at all times of the year contain one of the argest and best assorted stocks to be found in any retail house in the country. It is no half-and-half house, in which you can get this but have to go some where else for that, In it you can procure anything in the line. Fancy and staple dry goods of every description fill the shelves and drawers. Silks and satins; cylicos and cuttens; woollen goods, mixed goods and all kinds is to be found therein, The Millinery Department is very comlete, is ably and efficiently managed, and always contains the stert novelties in Pans and ondon fashions. Owing to the immense trade they do, the facilities they have for procuring goods, and the excellent arrangement that is displayed in every branch, they are enabled to sell at much lower prices than many other houses in the city. Their motto is "amall profits and quick returns," and in carrying out and acting upon this motto, "The Golden Bonnet" has earned a name for cheanness, combined with excellence, that is greatly to be envied. In conclusion we need only say to every reader of these lines do not forget "The Golden Branet" of If you are not already a customer of the house, which you must likely are wonadvise syou sto become one immediately and In recommending the establishment, we know that we are fully justified, and we know also that one trial will convince any ignorthative have not spoken too strongly in what we have said w den torices and in the quality revers heatisfaction is guaranteed, and if you cannot he pleased and suited at #4The Golden Bonnet," we know not where you can. Hot only of this city, but of the country generally, that it is almost needless to say anything in favour of it. It is always supplied with a choice and well assorted collection of wines and liquors, which to judge from what epicures speak of their flavours no some can find fault with. People will drink they have track ever since old father Nosh came out of the ark, and exhibited the truly sailor characteristic of getting on a "bonder" as soon as an opportunity offered. It is bad to follow Noal's example in this respect and yet it is right so St. Paul says to take a little for thy stomach's sake, now and again. Physicans tell us that pure wines and liquors not only produce no bad effects but are beneficial to the system, when used with that moderate tion which should characterize us in all things. To procure good and pure wines, therefore, is something that every man This can be done at the house of Co. P. Reid & Co. Wholesale Grocers.

Messes. G. Michie & Co.

TO S. L. MAR. ELLIST A.

One of the oldest houses in Toronto, in fact, we may say, one of the oldest in the provincer is that of Messrs, G. Michie & Co., No. 1 Frent Street, it has been in operation for a third of a century, though it has not during all that time been under its present name, in it was formerly the house Alex. Ogilvie & Co. a name well known to the old business men of Canada. The house was opened about thirty-three years ago, and though many firms have some and gone since that time, it has remained and has held its position as one of the leading establishments of the country. Under the present firm of George Michie & Co. it occupies an envishe position. We need scarcely say that the line of trade in which the firm is engaged is that of general groceries wines and liquors. George Michie & Co., rely upor no one for their supplies but the foreign dealers, or manufactures, from whom they import direct. They are, in fact, one of the eldest importing firms in Canada, and were engaged in the importation of groceries long before many of the firms around them came into existence. The trade they do is sufficient proof of the excellence of their importations. Having been for so this market, and never make the mistake, which some merchants who do not know the requirements of our people do, of bringing interthe country many articles for which their is no demand. theraby involving a loss under which more houses than one have gowe down. George Michie & Co. keep constantly on hand a stock of general processes, embracing everything in their line required by the people of Canada. The business they do is a very large one and is in connection principally with the old retail firms of the province, with whom they have traded for many years. Tasir connections in this respect are substantial and reliable and ensures for them as good a trade as is enjoyed by any house in the province engaged in the same line. The position they occupy amongst the commercial community is an enviable one. We know of no house possessed of a better standing, or having a mars howerable reputation. It is pleasing to find these old houses still flourishing amongst us, and keeping pace with their younger competitors, which, at the same they show beginners what may be won by perserverance, industry and honest dealings. We trust that the long established house of George Michie & Co., will continue to flourish and prosper, and that at the end of another thirty-three years it will occupy a still higher and more enviable position.

se of the oldest houses in Toronto, in fact, we must This establishment is situate on Palace Street, and is owned by Messrs, Lyman, Elliot & Co., the well known druggless of Toronto. It was put in operation some four years since, by the junior partner of the firm; at first on an experimental scale only; but having overcome the trials and obstacles medient to when undertaking it now assumes an important position as the only manufactory of elemicals, on a large scale, in the Province. present, employment is given to eleven hands and a ste engine of twelve herse power. The grinding room is littled with three paint mills for the preparation of white lead and colors in oll for painters use. A large business is 'one in ground white leads, and during the twenty years that they have been supplied, a very excellent reputation has been secured for them! A Grist mill for grinding spices, etc., and an iron mill and chopper for coarse comminution. Ranged on one side are also four drug mills, called "chasers," where powders are reduced to an exceedingly fine state of division. A drying room where by exposure to a gentle heat the various substances are rendered suffi-ciently frilable for powdering, renders the grinding department complete. In an adjoining building is an evaporating room for-nished with copper, stone and iron pans, heated by steam, for the preparation of extracts, and solutions prior to crystalization. and in a detached building the operations, fusion and the more dangerous manipulations requiring fire are earried on. We now pass to the bonded factory, an apartment immediately under the supervision of an officer of Excise. Here those preparations are made, of which alcohol forms the bade, such as the various ethers—chloroform, tinctures and the like. The spirit employed is allowed to be used free of duty; while the manufactured articles passing out, are subject to the same charges as if imported from another country. This place is very complete in all its arrangements, containing a large manaber of stills and percolators with all the apperatus requisite. A large store room occupies part of the upper flat of the building. There is also a bottling and packing room, a machinists and carpenters slop for necessary repairs, and the discussed and experimental laboratory. The entire establishment is very complete in all its arrangements, and redects the greatest credit on all concerned.

Ontario Tehacoo Manufactory.

A. SHAOK, 84 % 86 YORK STREET.

A few years ago tobacco manufacturing was a branch of trade almost saknown in this country. We relied entirely on the States for our supply of the ff weed," and every pound of salaceo used in Canada came from across the lines. We are clad to say that this is the pare no longer. The raw material is still furnished by the Sta a but is worked up here among ourselves and thus all the profits of the working are made in the tegentry. One of the leading houses in this branch of manufacturers vis that of Mr. A. Shack, of No. 84 and 86 York Street, Mr. Shack commenced operations in Toronto, about nine years ago, and at the present time occupies a prominent and even leading position. The establishme t is an extensive one occupying the greater portion not Capt. Strachan's block and doing an immented July Withers and Con and bought out by Mr. Shack will be amount of tobacco worked up may be imagined when we state that ordinarily about eighty hands are employed; and occasionally. during the basy season even a greater number is at work ... The leaf is purphised in the south and imported to Canada in the new state, is worked up into all kinds of tobacco such as suit this my bat, and then sold to the dealers throughout the country. Mr. Shack supplies hundreds of merchants, in the west and north, through his connection with the largest grocers in Montreel and Toronto The most remarkable feature of the trade. however, is that his preducessor did a large business with the far-off sister colony of Australia, thus proving that the manufactures of our country are becoming known and enpreciated auroad even at the very opposite quarter of the globe. The tobacco turned out by this house is well and favorably nown and the finest brands are remarkable for their purity and excellent flavor, it is pleasing to know that this is really the case, and that in our own country we can inake fobecon quite as good as the best imported from sacross the dines, which has been the case with Mr. Shack for the last two years, having principally manufactured bright holicoca. All bome manufacturers should be encouraged and supported by so doing we build up trade in our midst and do away with the necessity of relying upon our neighbons for those enticles which we can make at home. We trust that the encountermant. Mr. Sheek, has an ingreceived; will be continued, and thet he will receive the support his enterprise and energy extitle kim to.

Queen's Hotel

CAPT. THOS. DICK, LANDLORD.

In this country, where people are always on the move, and travellers from abroad are numerous, it is a matter of necessity that we should have good accompositions and comfortable notels. Nothing door a city more benefit than to have it known for and wide that it possesses fine hotels, affording the most ample ascomoditions for strangers. Such a reputation will induce travellers to visit a place! who would remain away were they told that the hotels were badly managed and poorly fitted up We are glad to know that in this respect Teronto stands well. and our reputation is in a great measure due to Capt. Thomas Dick: Of the Queen's Hotel, who is known throughout the country as the proprietor of one of the best hotels in Canada. About five dars ago Capt. Dick assumed the management of the Queen's. At that time the house was not thik hown, with the did not hold the reputation that now belongs to it. 21 The Queen's is situated on Front Street, between York and Bay, occupying withe position and commanding a beautiful view of the himself and lake 30 It is in close proximity to the railway stations and steamboat landings. "The building is a large and commedicus one, possessing accommodations for two hundred and fifty guests. It is excellently furnished from top to bottom, with very fine drawing and sitting rooms, large, airy, well lighted sleeping spartments, and one of the finest dining rooms in America. In fact, in all respects the Queen's is a thoroughly metropelitan kotel, and compares favourably, in its apartments and management with the great hotels of New York, Boston and Philadel phia in At the east end of the house there is a very beddtiful garden for the ass of the guests, and in the cast wing there is. that which everyone looks for in these times, it fine billiand room. In all respects the Queen's is a model hotel and has a reputation second to that of no house in Canada. Plans are new being prepared by Gundry & Langley, for adding an extra story to the main building, with a handsome cupols, and two wings of the east and west sides of the building, giving accommodation for 250 guests, of 80 more than can be taken in by any hotel in the Dominion Capt. Dick is one of the most courteous and contlemanly of landlords, and makes his guests feel thoroughly at home. Anything we might say in praise of the house would be simply superflows, as it has earned for itself a reputation which speaks for itself. The Queen's is a dredit to Toronto, of which our citizens are justly proud and we know that so long as it remains under its present management it will maintain its reputation as one of the best hotels in the Dominion of Canada.

One of the liters additions to the business houses of Toronta, Ituit only since the advent of the Southern war that much inteed hartily may attention was paid to the manufacture of beedd in this city a Since then the trade has grown from limpution to gigantic proportions, and in this city in particular laplemanythindreds of men, women, hoys and girls ere employed. Prominent among these firms is that of Messes. Thos. Steels & Con successors to S. S. Preston & Con who were defiet of the most extensive tobacco manufacturers in Canada is situated on York street near the corner of King. The Building which consists of two houses being thrown into offe, has a frontage on York Street of sixty feet by diffy-five in detth. and is four stories high, the entire of which is occupied by the different departments which are necessary in manufacturing tobacco from the raw state till it is ready for use. The engine which runs the works is of sixteen horse-power, and is placed together with a cutting machine in the cellar below the building. On the basement is situated the office, bonded werehouse, shipping from said press room where the press is worked by hydraulie power. This department also contains one large ram bender six compressors and twelve retainers and moulds for making ten and whalf lbs. The second story is divided into two compartments, the first of which is the brolling and do ing room, in which the leaf tobacco after being prepared is placed on a platform where men are employed turning it with forks made for the burbose, much in the same manner as have On the third story are situated the shaking out and casing apome. and the wavehouse where the tobacco after being leased is kept until it is sant down to the bonded store. THERE NO. 78 NO.

One of the latest additions to the business houses of Toronto. is that of Messes. Con 1008. of The house was topened sin oblanch. 1866, The Test present stand; No. 28 Wallington, Street paster Though of such recent formation the firm is already well known to the business community not only of our city but also of the country generally? Oln fact, from the way in which it is spoken! of the would imagine that it had been incoperation bry many years, and was one of the institutions of the country stat now does whare and increasing trade with the west and north, in addition to supplying many of the retail merchants; in our own city The branches to which the firm devotes perticular attention are millinery and fancy dry goods. These they import largely I'm general dry goods houses the lighter, or what are termed of fancy dry goods," are usually neglected and in a great measure lost sight of, and thus customers in search of such articles often experience much difficulty in finding them. The endeavour of Mesers. Cox & Con is to remedy this evil ay keeping constantly on hand a large, well selected, and well assort ed stock of fancy dry goods, from which purchasers can supply themselves with the least possible trouble and no difficulty In addition to this they deal extensively in millinery, taking good care that their customers shall be supplied with the newest. and best fashions. They also manufacture straw goods, mantles, and other articles which are made under the supervision of esor perienced persons recially to supply the gemands of this market will is a fact which cannot be disputed, that where firm devotes its attention specially to any one branch of trade the articles will be better and more suited to the wants, of custo tomers, than if they were saketed in a house engaged in all branches : For this reason the establishment of Massra Cox, & Course deserving of special notice. That it is speceeding is evident from the fact that its business has been steadily on the increase ever since it was commenced. I Country dealers visiting this city during the fall, should prior to purchasing elsewhere give Mesers. Cox & Co. a call. By doing so they will be enabled to examine a stock of goods which for quality, style and moderate price is second to none in the city.

The establishment of Messrs. J. & J. Taylor, No. 198 and 200 Palace Street, which he has acquired a wide-spread celebrity. on account of their patent librar proof safes dis zestablished over eleven years, during which period they have turned out a larger number of safes than any other manufactors of the kind in America. 8 The building which is three stories in height and has a frontage of one hundred feet on Palace Street! by forty in depth istentirely occupied by workmen temployed in this partionlar branch of trade. The office is situated on the first floor. in the mears of which is a room where the safes having been nainted japanned and varnished before being sent out of the establishment in The visitor first enters the fitting up department where the different plates are placed together and rivetted. In this room which is fitted up with all the necessary machinery for carrying on the trade, there are constantly eighteen bands employed to The second story is the machinery and working depertment where the plates are made the room is fitted with reaching drilling machines and lathes, designed by Mesers. J. Lity Taylor, specially for the work and constructed on the premises. The third story is where the locks are made in which are to be found all the necessary machinery and tools for this part of the business of The safes made by Jink J. Taylor, are warranted both fire and burglat proof and the manufacturers produce certificates to that effect from Banks, archange offices and various mercantile establishments throughont Canada and the Lower Provinces. To give some idea of the immense strength of these safes, one was manufactured lateby for the Quebec Branch of the Bank of Montreal, which when packed weighed over five tone, and contained in its composition over three tons of cast steel, and the lock of this safe would be changed one hundred million times. The works are driven by a machine of 15 horse-power, constructed by Medcalf of this city. The proprietors employ fifty hands constantly and turn out one safe a day exeraging in price from $50 to $1,000 and more Mesers Taylor do solarge business in Canada. elso in P. E. Island and Nova Scotia id It may be in place to mention here that there is a great advantage in muschesing their Canadian made safes. In Not speaking of the quality, American safes have to pay a duty of twenty persont and the charge for transmit is naturally high, but perfect security may be attained at a lesser price by purchasing basis from those whose position and experience is a sufficient guarantee for every article that leaves their workshops.

HURD, LEIGH & Co., 72 YONGE STREET.

in the Messis J. Messra Hurd, Leigh & Cop who have been established over ten wears as wholesale and retail Ching and Creekery dealers Nov 72 Younge Street, do one of the largest trades in Upper Cana day in this peculiar branch of business. The first floor is used as a store room which is constantly supplied with a varied colli lection of all descriptions of china, earthenward, such as break fact, dinner sets, and toilet utensils of different thatterns and prices to meet the wants of the castomers. The seconds foot is the decorating and finishing department where a number of hands are employed in painting and gilding chinal being the only establishment in Canada, where this beautiful and delicate process is carried out. In this portion of the building twelve hands are constantly engaged. A solution of pure gold is used for gilding purposes, which on being laid on the china as first has a dark huer the other necessary colors are then put on after which the china is placed in a furnace where it is subjected to intense heat: On being taken out the gilding is a dull well low colour, after which the articles are put in the hands of the finishery and burnished with agate or bloodstone. Mesers Hard, Leigh & Co, reconstantly employ twenty hands. Families requiring chinaware for furnishing purposes or otherwise are sufe to meet with anything in the line at their establishment The Source of the Bourd of Arts and Montufactures for Usper Consider speaking of the firm, says: 2014 This elegant ornamental artiwas introduced into Canada for the arstitimes by Messes Bland: Leigh & Co. 38 Younge Street: Toronto 311 The exceedingly beautiful wares of the English Potteries are so attractive to all who have the least taste that almost every family regards the persession of a set of beautiful china as among the first requisition of liousekeeping. I Unfortunately, he ever, the less by breakage in transporting this class of goods from England to this country is so great as to raise the price of the articles above the convenience of many to purchase. The Mesers Hurd Beight Confirmiliar with the pottery business in all its practical details resolved to remedy this state of things by importing their fine perceion without the ornamental work, and having the artistic embellishment executed here at their own establishment? They accordingly sent Chaptand for a family of artists who had been viducated at a school of design in connection with the potteries and had long experience in working for some of the whose gosting and everyments a sufficient strangalities test

By energy and perserverance, men of business habits and undoubted integrity, from a small commencement are sure to reach the desired goal of independence, but to do this it is necessary that the stand taken by the young and aspiring merchant in a small way, on his opening business, should be adhered to throughout life and that no deviation should be made from the except to increase his stock and promote his customers. This can truly be said to have been done by Messre. N. & F. Looney, who, by their unceaseing a sidulty to business and their ever auxious desire to please the public have seen red for themselves not only a large but a profitable business. Supplied as they always are with goods of the cholcest quality, the wholesale establishment of Messrs. Rooney & Co. No. 60 Yonge Street, can compare with any other store of the kind in Ontario. Of Irish linens, linings, Scotch tweets, black actioisn silks, Irish poplins and tabinets, there are always a large assortment on hand which are carefully selected from the best markets of Great Britain and France, where one of the partners proceeds twice a year for that ourpose. Wholesale Wines and Liquors.

GORDON & Co.

About two years ago the wholesale wine and liquor house of Messrs, Gordon a Co. was opened in this city. The firm at the present time do business at No. 36 Wellington Street east. Though such a short time in operation they have already worked their way into public favour, and now occupy a highly favourable position in the Province. Their business is not, in any way, mixed up with groceries, as is often the case, they deal exclusively in the one branch, and are, therefore enabled to devote more time and attention to it than if they had half-a-dozen other branches to look after. They are direct importers of all the wines and liquors they sell. They import French, Spanish and Hungarian wines of the purest quality, and most famous brands. Those who purchase from Messas Goldbirk Co, can rely upon getting none but the genuine articles, They also import, Irish and Scotch Whiskeys, old Ton Gin, and pure Jamaica Rum; and in addition thereto are extensive dealers in Guinness' famous Dublin stout, London Stout, and Bass' Pale Ale, all of which are shipped direct to them from the manufacturers, the packages never being broken until they pass into the hands of customers. Those who purchase from Mesars, Gordon & Co., may thus be confident that they get as pure an article as if it was chosen from the cellars of the manufacturers. The business done by this firm is increas-They sell wholesale entirely, and supply many of the retail dealers throughout the city and country. A large trade, however is done with private families, and most of the gentlemen of our city, have their stock replenished from the cellans of Mesers. Gordon & Co. Those who have not already dealt with them should give them a trial at once. A call at this establishment will convince intending purchasers that Messes. Gordon & Co. sell excellent liquors, at fair and reasonable prices, and expecting, as we know they all have a fair thate of that patronage and liberal support due to man who are deter mined to give satisfaction to their customers. Orders antithem will receive the best attention, and merchants from the country and gentlemen wishing a supply of liquors for their houses, should pay Messrs. Gordon & Co. a visit, and assure themselves of the truth of what we have stated. The firm are courteous and obliging, and are determined not to be outdone in serving those who may patronize them.

Paper Manufacturers.

BUNTIN BROTHERS, YONGE STREET.

It is not long ago since the newspaper publishers of Canada had to look to the United States for their supply of paper. It was an article the manufacture of which progressed slowly here. and it does not require an old man to remember when the first paper imilia was repended in Canada. In course of time was the country advanced and newspapers multiplied, the demand. for printing paper became greater than the supply furnished by a foreign market, and the necessity for producing the article at home became apparent. Factories were accordingly put in operation in different parts of the country; they succeeded and increased and at the present time we are actually sending large quantities to the States, from which we formerly received our supply! "Perhaps the greatest paper manufacturing company in the province is that of Buntin Brothers. In 1866 this enterprising firm opened a house in this city, and they have now similar establishments in Montreal and Hamilton as Their miles are at Valleyfield, Lower Canada, on the banks of the St. Lawrence They employ 150 hands constantly and turn out about five tons of paper per day. They do not confine themselves to the manufacture of printing paper, but also make writing and wramping paper of all the various kinds and qualities. To the printers of Canada their paper is well known, as they supply more publishers than any other house in the country, and never fail to give perfect satisfaction. They also manufacture envelopes of all kinds sizes and colours, at the rate of 150,000 per day, and wet this immense amount is not sufficient to meet the demand. Mesers: Buntin Brothers are, of course, entirely wholesale dealers, and in addition to the paper manufactured bythemselves, there may be found in their establishments all kinds of English, French and Prussian paper, which they import direct from the makers. They do an immense trade, for, in addition to publishers, they supply hundreds of retail stationers throughout the Province, and in fact, have a constant and in creating demand for all they make and import. The firm of Mesers. Buntin Brothers is a credit to the Dominion. "Newspaper publishers and job printers in the Dominion will find the goods manufactured by this firm to be of excellent quality and sold at moderate prices; and the testimonials of those who deal with them are such that recommend them to the printers of the Dominion.

Dioney, Netll & Co., 22, 23 & 24 Bevenly Street.

This extensive establishment extends from Queen Street 400 fest back on Beverly Street, and from thenes 260 feet across towards Maris Street, covering over three acres of ground. After passing through the office, the visitor is first conducted to the meeting and, which is 100 feet long by 44 feet wide, in which a number of hands are constantly employed in effecting and putting together steam engines out of the plate, and other portions of machinery made in the different sections of the boldings. At the time we visited it a forty horse power engine (the order or which had only been given two months ago,) was ready for removal, which in all its details, as far as mechanical ingenuity suggested, was admirable in its construction. This engine was built to the order of Jacques & Hay, being the second threy have ordered within two years. We also noticed an engine of eighty horse-power of superior manufacture, which was being made for Hotolikiss, Yeckham & Hoag's, steam saw mills, at Collingwood, which, when completed, will be the largest in Upper Canada, it being estimated that it will cut 150,000 feet of fumber daily. There is also a smaller engine of thirty horse-power in course of construction for the same mill. Amongst the works at present, in addition to those already noticed, are a twenty-five he se-power machine building, for Mitchell of Penetanguishene, to drive a circular steam saw mill, another for McCaffrey of Aurora; a fifteen horse power engine for Scott & Stollery, contractors for the new wing to the Provincial Limitic Asylum of this city; a smaller engine for Mr. Sproat, brewel sind a number of other orders which it would be superfluous to mention. In this department may be seen a large number of lattles, plaining and drilling machines, preparing for steam saw mills, for which they have an extensive order constantly on hand. Leaving this department you enter the electing trehouse which is solely applied for the purpose of heavy work, a building of three stories, high contined to the construction of large castings and machinery. Adjoining this department is the boiler shop which is ninety feet in length by forty in width. It contains three superior and powerful machines which at considerable expense have been made, under the design of the proprietors. The first the visitor sees is used for shearing plates, second for rolling, and the third embraces a pair of rollers sufficiently large to take in six feet of iron in width. In this department four smiths' fires are constantly kept burning for the purpose of planing iron, and a large assortment of boiler plates

Two locomotive boilers and four tubular boilers four feet in width by twenty-eight feet in length, were in course of construction and have since been shipped for Collingwood. The premises of Messrs. Dickey, Neil & Co., are extensively laid out, centrally located and admirably adapted for the display and storage of the various products of their manufacturing establishment, and in no manner is this more exemplified than in their pattern rooms, where wheels of all sizes, from six inches in diameter to eighteen feet. and other models corrected with the trade, may be seen at all times. Some ides of the extensive and valuable contents of this deportment may be known when we state that it is insured for $20,000, and that three men day and night are constantly employed to watch it. Of ornamental fencing, of which the proprietors took the first prize at the late Provincial Exhibition. there is a large variety embracing the latest patterns, some of which are most unique and chaste in workmanship. Leaving this portion of the building you next enter the foundry which is seventy feet long by fifty-five in breadth, containing two for-naces, which on an average melt 50cwt. of iron, per day, and the different machines in connection with this department alone, are capable of completing a casting of eight tons on any occasion, when ordered. Between the foundry and machine shop is situated the engine room, where a thirty-horse power engine drives the works. Last year over seven hundred tons of pig iron, was used in the manufacture of machinery for the Province, and close on one thousand tons of coal burnt, by which the public may form a fair estimation of the patronage which Messrs, Dickey, Neil & Co., from their superior manufacture have secured for themselves. In twenty five different establishments in this city the machinery is driven by their build of engines, and on the Northern Railway alone they have erected more than fifty steam engines and mills, most of which are in successful operation to day. Altogether the facilities possessed by this firm for manufacturing are unsavpassed, and the works are a credit to Toronto. JOAB SCALES & Co., 72 ADELAIDE STREET.

There centlemen have two establishments, the principal one of which is situated at No. 73 Adelaide street, and the branch manufactory, which it was found necessary to have in consequence of increased trade, which has only been opened since the 1st March, is on the corner of York and Adelaide Streets, The main establishment on Adelaide Street, has a frontage of eighty feet by one hundred and ninety feet in depth, is three stories in height, and is the largest tobacco manufactory, as far as trade is concerned, in Upper Canada. A twelve horse-power engine which drives the works is on the first floor of the building, in which is also the press rooms, bond warehouses, A. & B., and the sweat house, where the tobacco is placed previous to its being subjected to the preparation which it undergoes before it is sent to the finishing department. On the second floor are two drying rooms, one for leaf and the other for lump tobacco. A covering room and the machine department, which contains an ingeniously contrived lumping machine, invented by J. D. King, with improvements suggested by the proprietors, and a steam crusher. The third floor is used for shaking out, casing. and stemming rooms, which are divided into different compartments, suitable for such purposes. In the rear of the building is a large shed which is used for storing tobacco leaf that is constantly filled with the best quality of tobacco imported from the states. In this establishment, from 125 to 140 hands are constantly employed. The branch establishment, situated on the corner of York and Adelaide Street, is a handsome brick building three stories high. On the besement story are to be found the press room, cutting, stemming and drying departments, and the sweat house. The second floor is where the machine ja worked and also contains a lumping room, third floor, and casing leaf and stemming department. Seventy hands are occupied here daily, and to give some ides of the extent of the husiness, the main establishment, last year, sold over 500,000lbs, of tobacco, so of their own manufacture, and the branch has put out, since it. is established, a hundred boxes per week. Billiard Table Manufacturers.

Tobacco I man 1 opedoT

The beautiful game of Billiards has become one of the greatest sources of innocent and healthy amusement for our people. It is the king of indoor games, and it is pleasing to find that it is constantly increasing in popularity. In the billiard world Canada occupies an envisible position, from the fact that one of of our countrymen holds the champion cue of America, and has nobly defended it up to this time, with splendid success, against all comers. A few years ago, billiard tables were a novelty in the land, but it cannot be said that they are so any longer. Our American cousins introduced them amorigst us, and now we best them at their own game. Seeing the growing love for the game and the increasing demand for tables. Messes. Riley & May, of the Revere House, with commendable enterprise, a short time ago commenced the manufacture of them in this city. Hitherto we were supplied entirely by the United States, but the necessity no longer exists for one going to a foreign maker for them. The tables turned out by this firm are in every particular equal to those made in the States." The most experienced workmen are employed, the very best of material is used, and the tables for finish, beauty and accuracy, connot be surpassed. Through a special arrangement the celebrated combination cushion, patented by Mr. Michael Phelan, are used in every table turned out by Messrs Riley & May, and thus the tables are quite as good as those made by Messrs. Phelan & Collendar, of New York. In addition to the tables themselves the firm are prepared to furnish ques, markers, tips, balls, chalk, cloth, and all kinds of billiard materials, at much lower rates than they can be imported for, and of as good a character." They also manufacture bagatelle tables. It is the duty of Canadians to support native industry of all kinds, and we are glad to learn that this is being done in the case of Messrs. Rifey & May. This firm have placed four new handsome tables in the Hossin House billiard parlor, which, for exquisite work manship are equal to any tables ever produced in the United States, and, which, are worth inspecting. Their hands are kept busy to supply the demand, and that the tables are all we have said is evident from the fact that they are highly re-commended by all who ever used them. The factory is situated at No. 82 York Street, and is a four story brick building. "The billiard parlor of the house is a handsome two story building. on York street, with entrance through the Revere, and is supplied with ten tables.

Plumber and Gas Fitter.

GEO. HARDING, KING STREET EAST.

Mad G. Harding who has been established in this city for over-twenty years, and has earned for himself a reputation in both the Provinces, as one of our most skillful master Plumbers Steam and Gas Fitters, still keeps his old stand No. 77 King Street west ld The store, which has a frontage of near fifty feet in Unnof the most business parts of King Street, is two hundred feet/long by thirty feet wide, in which are to be seen the latest improvements in all articles connected with plumbing. Gas fittang brace founding, iron pipe work and copper. Mr. Harding makes a speciality of constructing beer pumps, of which he always have large supply on hand. The latter article are of a superior quality, and as native manufacture, for utility and durabilify can compete with any other establishment in the country. At the reer of the building a handsome glass partition divides the valion and office from the warerooms, in which may be noticed baths, brass destings and finishings, portable waterclosets, and all other articles pertaining to the business, adjoining which are the lacquering rooms, where the chandeliers and other goods made are japanned previous to being placed in the waredodin. At the rear of the lacquering room is the mechanies department, where an engine of six horse-power, to which is attached three lathes, does the turning work of the establishmental Mr. Harding imports the greater portion of his raw produce from England, Philadelphia and New York, and as he purchases the best in the market and that the establishment is carried on under his immediate supervision those who favor him with orders may rest satisfied that the work, confided to him, will not be only well executed but deserving of that patronage which his enterprise and perserverance entitled him tolal Amongst other articles which we noticed in Mr. Harding's establishment; especially deserving of notice was some very handsome agreen for covering steam pipes, designed by the proprietor, which for design and elegance worthy of mention. Mrg Harding countantly employs a large number of hands in his workshops, and the amount of work done in the residences of genillemen, not only din the city but throughout the Province of Ontario, is sufficient evidence that the style of work turned out must be first class. This establishment is in the twentieth year of its existence.

Hat and Cap Manufactory.

McCrosson & Co., 111 King Street East.

Hats and Caps are usually allowed to be one of the most necessary and useful articles of domestic apparel. They not only cover that which sometimes is objectionable a bare head, but protects luxuriant locks from sun or storm, heat on cold. Hats are however not an endurable article, they are liable to be smashed sometimes, and a shower of rain sometimes totally destroys their outward appearances, but there are hats which are above smashing by rain, which by their superior manufacture and construction can endure more hardship than perhaps any other protector of the cranium that can be found in the Dominion. These can be purchased at Messrs. McCrosson & Co.'s Hat and Cap Mart.

The old established wholesale and retail warehouse of Mesers. McCrosson & Co., is es blished at No. 111 King Street east, and from the well known reputation that these gentleman have bequired, it is not astonishing that their business has yearly increased, and that at present they are the largest manufacturers in Hats and Caps made of silk, felt, fur and cloth, in Upper Canada. Their front store, which is elegantly fitted up, is filled with an assortment, embracing hats and caps of all descriptions and sizes, and at the extremity of the store, in order that customers may have an opportunity of perceiving whether they are fitted or not, is placed one of the handsomest pier glasses in the city. In the different rooms up stairs, are the departments where the hats and caps are manufactured, in which there are employed in summer time thirty hands, and in winter when the demand is larger near double that number. Messrs. McCrosson & Co., do a large wholesale business in the country, and supply most of the principal hatters, west of Toronto, with articles in the trade. The firm have opened a branch establishment at No. 92 Yonge Street, which is also well stocked, and has, since opening, been favored with extensive patronage... From the fact that the gentleman at the head of the firm is an eminent practical man, it is alone a guarantee that the goods sold must be of good workmanship. Bookseller, Stationery and News Warehouse.

A. S. IRVING.

Mr. A. S. Irving, a few months since, removed from the corner of Jordan Street, to more extensive premises, at No. 35 King Street West, fitted up at considerable expense, and has everything in the stationery and bookselling life that can be required. The shop presents a handsome frontage on King Street and is constantly supplied with all the leading magazines, periodicals obooks and inewspapers published on this Continent or in Europe. Every train that arrives in this city brings Irving the latest papers from New York, and by the English mail he is supplied twice a week with the London Pimes. and most of the English periodicals and magazines. Some idea may be conveyed of the extent to which Mr. Irving imports, when of Bow Bells alone he takes 22,000 copies per annum. The front store is filled with the latest publications, and an elegant variety of albums, of which peculiar branch in the business Mr. Irving makes a speciality. In the rear of the department is the office, and wholesale warehouse, which is crowded with all descriptions of stationery, account books, albums, and other articles belonging to the trade. Judging from the facilities for conducting business in every department of the establishment, we should say that there is no establishment of the kind in this city where parties can be better suited. Mr. Irving's prices are moderate and terms liberal. The latest news and most recent publications are always looked after with interest by the literary world, and although many parties profess to be supplied with the earliest intelligence, we know of no establishment in the city that is more qualified to furnish the same than that of Mr. A.S. Ifving. This gentleman, for many years has been long and favorably known to the inhabitants of Toronto as one of their most enterprising business men, who, by his anxiety to please the public and unremitting endeavors to meet the wants of his customers, has secured for himself the large and liberal patronage to which he is entitled. We should mention that Mr. leving in addition to his regular arrangements, has special and exclusive connexions with English publishers for the supply of those cheap English publications which are now, we are glad to say, taking the place of similar feates of the American press. To the country news dealer the advantage of being supplied with the issues with promptitude and dispatch is invaluable, and those who patronise Mr. Irving will find that no effort on his part will be wanting to always keep ahead of time.

of Jordan Street, to note esteasive The Singer Sewing M chines have for several years been known as among the most economical in price and most useful articles of the description constructed on this continents of Mr. Black. who is agent for this ingenious invention has his shi recomment No. 18 King Street east, where persons are constantly engaged; sewing and stitching with the machines in autestion anditdemonstrating their practibility to such parties as may be designed of purchasing. These machines, from their perfect construction, are adapted for every kind of sewing for shoemakers for tailors, and for family use; they work well from the heaviest leather to the finest cambric. The No. 2 manufacturing machine is unequalled for leather and clothing manufacturing. Mr. Black has lately received a model of a newly invented manufacturing machine, designed expressly for delicate leather works which uses a shorter and fiver needle than any other yet madeus This new family or letter A machine is a beautiful piece of mechanism, it runs almost without noise; is extremely simple; makes a beautiful stitch alike on both sides; uses a very short straight needle. It in fact seems to be faultless. It is furnished with the latest attachments for hemming, braiding, rucking, cording, binding, trimming, &c.; and last, though not least, with a most ingenious yet simple apparatus for embroiderings; it weaves a braid of one, two, or three colours, and stitches it on at the same time. It seems to us that all persons needing a family machine, or for light purposes, should see the new Singer Family Machine. The New England Wax-Thread Machine, Mr. Black is also Agent for them, and keeps a full supply on hand! They are indispensable for shoe manufacturers. There are three sizes, A post, B post, and C post. The C is not used for siding up heavy boots, the B for general work, the A for fine calf work. The large sale of these machines in the Provinces and the United States, is sufficient proof of their usefulness for family purposes. Mr. Black, it must be remembered, is a practical intechinist, and machines purchased by him can, it out of order, which, we may state, is a matter of rare occurrence, be repaired promptly and efficiently distinding purchasers should examing the Singer Machine, and did boildque gaied to again

General Fancy Goods.

J. M. DRANSFIELD & Co.

This is a new firm. Their establishment is situated at No. 51 Yonge Street. The branch of business in which they are engaged, though not a new one, has heretofore been mixed up by other merchants, with general dry goods, and has, therefore, not been attended to properly, or with full advantage to either purchaser or seller. They are importers of and dealers in Haerdashery, Berlin Wools, and general Fancy Goods, which they dispose of by wholesale only. This is, we believe, the only house in Toronto, where trade is confined exclusively to this branch, and the advantage, therefore, of such an establishment to retail dealers, will readily be acknowledged. Though of comparitively recent formation we are glad to learn that the firm of Dransfield A Company is doing well, and that its business is constantly ex-tending and increasing. This is evident from he fact that, while a short time ago they occupied somewhat commed quarters, they now have a large well fitted up store, at No. 51 Yonge Street the premises formerly occupied by the late Provincial Telegraph Company. Their stock is large, excellently selected, and well kept up. They import direct all kinds and colors of Berlin and fleecy wools, yaras of every variety, English and German working canvass, perforated card-board, wool work, traced, begun and inished, knitting, netting and crotchet, besk, doss, silks and chenille, braids of every description in silk, mohair and cotton, gold and silver wire, needles of every conceivable kind and style, buttons, tapes, cords, threads, whalebone, elastic, laces, rubber goods, paper collars, and, in fact, an almost endless variety of lancy goods. Messrs Dransfield & Co., thoroughly understand the business in which they are engaged, and keep a stock specially suited to the requirements of the Canadian market. Experienced buyers leave for Europe every year, and from the connections of the firm, they are enabled to buy on highly advantageous terms, so that to country dealers Messrs. J. M. D. & Co., can offer favourable terms. The success they have so far met with augurs well for their future, and we feel confident that in the course of a few years, the fifm will occupy a prominent position among the business houses of our Dominion. Retail dealers will do well to note the name and number of this establishment and give it a trial

R. M. Wanzer & Ce's Sewing Machines.

L. C. MENDON, AGENT, No. 3 ROSSIN HOUSE.

Messrs, R. M. Wanzer & Co's Noiseless Sewing Machines was only invented in 1865, since which time the celebrity that it has acquired has caused the firm, at a large outlay, extensively to enlarge their manufactory at Hamilton, where one hundred hands are constantly employed in constructing and finishing these neat and handy family machines for the market. By the improvements which they have introduced the take up wire and noisy gearing is avoided, the ma hine running with ease and mandity, being able to be worked in a drawing room without the slightest annoyance to parties engaged in conversation or musical practice. It is adapted to all and every variety of work from the finest lawn and softest kid to the coarsest pilot cloth and heaviest leather, and altogether, is one of the most complete, ingenious and perfect pieces of mechanism in the line extant. Messrs. Wanzer & Co., have secured for their agent in this city Mrs. L. C. Mendon, a first-class operator, who is thoroughly conversant with the different kind of machines, the working of which she is at all times ready to explain to those desiring of learning the art. By Mrs. Mendon's politeness and generosity in dealing with the working classes she has rendered herself exceedingly popular amongst the business community and parties desirous of purchasing an indispensible family article at a reasonable price, would do well to give Mrs. Mendon a call. A first price was swarded to the Wanzer machine at the late Provincinal Exhibition for stitching, an extra prize for embroi-dery, and an additional prize as the best manufacturing machine. The machine combines usefulness with utility and can be purchased at a reasonable rate. When this notice was about to go to press, we received intelligence of the triumph of Wanzer & Co's machines at the great Paris Exposition, and certainly the firm have reason to be proud of their victory. The signal triumpt attained by Canadian mechanical skill and jugentity at Paris, and in a department of all others commanding the most extended and determined competition from many of the leading cities of Europe and America, is worthy of more than a passing notice, and particularly as our own city is specially honored by the achievement, Since the first introduction of the sewing machine, which may justly be distinguished as one of the most important and truly beneficial inventions of the age, an unlimited amount of ingenuity has been expended upon the original principle, producing constant improvements, until perfection quite has been attained. As the public have already been informed, the first and highest prize medal at the Paris Exposition of 1867, in the competition of Sewing Machines, has been awarded to the Family Shuttle Sewing Machine, manufactured by R. M. Wanzer & Co., of Canada. This award has not been given in the Canadian list just published, in consequence of the Hamilton machine having been exhibited in the English department. Messrs, Wanzer & Co. received an order from the Qanadian Board of Commissioners of the Paris Exhibition tou late for the delivery of the machines by the time they wern required. But previous thereto an order had been received from the Home Government, through their European head office in London, which had been met by the shipment of a full set of their various machines, magnificently finished. In consequence of such discumstances, Mesers, Wanzer & Co. were not is presented in the Canadian department, as their preference would obviously have been; The machines were displayed in group 60 class 57, of the English department, under the special charge of Rolf. Wansers Esq. 1 the senior manber of the arm, who had the high honor of exhibiting the workmanship and operation of the machine to their Majesties the Emperor and Empress of France personally. The Family Machine is the one most in ordinary use, and for excellence therein the highest prize was awarded; consequently the success of the celebrated Canadian Manufactory could not have been more complete and satisfactory. The importance of this great and well deserved triumph of Messrs. Wanzer & Co., may be estimated in some degree by the sudden and overwhelming increase of orders for the European Jemand. Following immediately upon the announcement of the award, an order has been received from a single house in London for ten thousand of the Prize Machines, and the enterprising firm will be put to their utmost efforts to keep within distance of the demands upon them. Mrs. Mendon has ordered a large number of these mac ines for the fall trade, and families who wish to have a first-class sewing machine, should give Mrs. Mendon s call. We feel convinced that those who do this will find her affable and obliging, and an agent of a machine well worth purchasing.

Wholesale Confectionery Establishment.

W. HESSIN, 179 KING STREET EAST.

This well-known establishment which is solely confined to the manufacture of confectionery in the wholesale line, has been established over ten years, during which period it has earned for itself a reputation which daily increases. Besides manufacturing confectionery, Mr. Hessin is the onlyparty in Upper Canada who prepares candied orange, lemon and citron peal, of which he is the largest seller in the market. In rear of the shop wherein is storedoalled escriptions of confectionery, is situated the working department, in which may be seen from patent self-acting revolving pane, which are used for the purpose of anaking lemonodrops and candies other articles appertaining to the trade of The first floor is occupied by a number of persons who go through the process of preparing these articles before they are brought down to the finishing department, and in a building at the rear of the workshop five parties are constantly engaged in stamping the name of the proprietor on the lozenges and other articles prepared . The business is exclusively tal wholesale one. Mr. Hessin does a large trade in the Dominion, and from the universal satisfaction which he has given will, no doubt, continue to secure the patronage of those who have heretofore given him orders.

Their business is entirely wholesale, and they have a large connection throughout the Province. A pleasing and satisfactory feature of their business is that its increase is constant and steady. This is most flattering, and shows that those who have patronized the house received every satisfaction. A glance over their establishment is sufficient to convince one that a very large trade is done, and that the business is rapidly growing. Their premises are commedious, extensive and convenient: the house is well stocked, and contains the very choicest selection, of such articles in their line as are sure to meet with a ready sale. To those country merchants who have not done any business as yet with Messrs. Thomson & Burns, we would say, "Do so at once." We feel confident that every satisfaction will be given, and that those who once commence dealing with them will not find it necessary to make purchases of the same kind of goods at any other house.

This fact is fully sustained from the fact W. hich has so far crowned their efforts, that not one of the retail trade west of Kingston now go to Montreal to purchase stock, either in the spring or fall; all now make Toronto their centre or market. To Mr. Russell this is in a great measure due. The superior manufacture of his goods, and consequent entire satisfaction which they afford, especially the Russell watch, together with a judicious outlay in making the public aware of the advantage possessed by him has done much to bring about this very desirable state toff keeper, and in buying a Russell watch there is no doubt enaths splendid value is obtained. Mr. Rusself first opened business here in the fall of Isc2 from the fact that the war had created a perfect stagnation in the watch trade. Wholesale Dry Goods.

CAPT, FORTHER, AGENT, FRONT STREET.

Confessedly the most widely-known Dry Goods house in · Upper Canada (or Ontario, as we must now call it), is that with which for over thirty years, the name of William McMaster has been astociated as intingipal | Toronto was a very small and uniimportant town when this house was first opened, and there business done in those days was small in proportion. The original size of the establishment was on the corner of King and Yonge streets to but in course of time the business swelled and increased, and prospered, until it outgrew the capacities of the premises and made a change necessary. Accordingly, in 1849 the present warehouse, next the Bank of Montreal, at the foot of Yongs street, was commenced, and in the following. year the firm featered into occupation of it, and have remained there ever since or The building, though not a strong one, was in those days looked upon as a great ornament to the architect tural beauties of the city; and, indeed, we may even now consider it as such in a certain sense, when we remember the businest that is done therein and the benefits that thereby accrue to our city. The warehouse is a large commodious one, and at. the time it was built, people wondered what purpose the firm could turn such extensive premises. They were not long left in doubt for in the course of a few years, the business had indressed to such an extent that the premises, large and extensive as they are, were too small rather, than too great, to meet, the demands of the immense trade of the house To say anything in praise of a house so well and widely known would be simply superfluous. It speaks for itself. gress and success of the firm are, wa believe, almost unparalleled. in the history of this country, and reflect the highest credit on those who have during so many years, and among so many dangers, continued on their course of uninterrupted prosperity, The connections of the house are of the most extensive kind and enable it successfully to hold a leaning position in the trade, such as may well be envied. When the house was first opened, the firm was Wm. McMaster & Brother, then Wm. McMaster & Nebhewa and now it is At R. McMaster, & Brothers, From the first its course has been onward and upward, and the high; position it now occupies is so well known throughout the county try, that tanything we might say by way of praise would be simply repeating what every one already knows,

Toronto is certainly the central market for jewelfy and fancy goods, and during the last few years those engaged in that business have had no reason to corrolain. Evidence of that fact is amply testified by the very handsome establish ment which we now notice, and which, we unhesitatingly say, is equal in beauty, internal appearance, and variety and value of stock to any establishment in the Dominion to even any establishment on this continent. To Canadian's tills may seem as somewhat too much flattery for an estable Ishment in our Dominion, but those who read this notice have but to ask those who are posted, and the stern truth what we say will be made apparent ni-This firm is among the oldest houses in the above trade in Toronte, and have been established over thirty years, and since they first commenced to the present time the business has steadily increased, until it is now second to none. For a number of years the firm mostined shound be tightirely fo the retail branch of their business. To purchase an article from them was a guarantee of its genuineness, and this on account of of the difficulty those not acquainted with the trade expezience in judging valuable articles, established their reputanon." The retail branch is situated on King st., three doors cast of Yonge, and is considered one of the best business stands in the city. The firm have litted it up in the most elegant and costly style. The first floor extends some 85 feet in depth and contains one of the finest stocks of wetches, fine gold jewellery, silverware, electro-plate and general fancy goods in the province. The second floor is approached by an elegant winding staircase, and is fitted up as a show room for cricketing and archery goods, croquet, bagatelle boards, and various other games and fancy ware. This may be considered, and really is, among the hands somest stores in the city, and Toronto may feel proud of it, The rear portion is fitted up as a workshop, where are mandisctured every description of silverware, jewellery, &c. This is the only firm in Toronto who manufacture elliver cups, &c. for presentation, on their own premises. The names of "Betley & Kay" are as familiar throughout this portion of Canada as household words. It is a quarter of a century ago since these gentlemen commenced business in this city; in fact, we might almost call them the pioneers of the dry goods trade, as they were nearly the first to open out on anything like a margara department was a small and unimportant town when they commenced business, and commercially, as well as in other ways, it has made great onward strides since that time. During all these years, our city has experienced many changes; many firms have come and gone; many have started in husiness, have had their day, and have disappeared; and yet the old pioneer house of Betley & Kay still remains, firmer than even through age and experience, and war might almost say, looked upon as one of the institutions of our H city. For fear there might be any stranger who does not know in where the house is situated, we will tell them that it is in the rery centre of business, namely, on the corner of King and if Yonge Streets. The building is rather a dingy one outside, for it is somewhat time stained, having been built many years ago, in before half of the blocks that now ornament our streets were thought of. It is a good, strong, substantial building, how ever, and has an appearance of solidity well suited to the firm by whom it is occupied. Entering the store we find its shelves, and counters filled with goods of the best and choicest descriped tions, all, of course, imported direct. The stock is one of the largest to be found in any retail house in Canada, and embraces everything in the Dry Goods line, from the coarsest cottons to T the very finest and most costly fabrics of Eastern manufacture The entire building is occupied by the firm, and everything is arranged with the utmost order and regularity. The house has long been noted for its Millinery and Mantle department, which our is most complete in every particular, and is under able manager to ment. While the establishment will be found complete in all no respects, we must direct special attention to this branch, which not we do with every confidence, well knowing that it is deserving a of all we might say in favour of it. As an evidence of its popularity, and of the pull-lid confidence that is reposed in it, we must only refer to they fact, that during last year it issued 15,748 policies overing in risks amounting, in all, to upwards of $45,000,000. Willis is certainly, an extraordinary record, and we doubt if any other company can equal it. Owing to the large dividends which have been declared, the cost of insuring in this company is reduced to about one-half the ordinary rates. Tor instance at the age of 30 the cost of a policy for $2,000, in most companies, is about $47, while in the Atna it is for the first year only $25.32. and in the second and each succeeding year it is $26.75. These low rates are mainly owing to the fact, that the funds of the company are all invested on this continent, where the rate of interest is about double that paid in Europe. The sums of money that might be saved our lady friends in the parchase of wearables is enormous, simply by making purchases in the right places. The leading firms vin the retail dry goods line liave been built up by selling goods at reasonable prices, and in our judgment these are the stores to patronize. The establishment we now notice is we believe, one of these, and the popularity they have attained by refling choice goods is an exemplification of the truth of our statement. None but the best of fabrics fill their counts ters and shelves, and hence ladies in making their purchases for the season, should not omit calling and examining for themselves Mr. W. H. Dow, the head of the firm, has for many years been engaged in business in this city, and has always had the reputation of selling an excellent and reliable article of dry goods at a moderate price. Some years age his establishment was entirely renovated, re-painted and refitted. The antiquated brick front, which for so meny years graced the south-west corner of King and Yonge sts., being removed and a handsome front of cut-stone of very substantial design, taking its place. While these external improvements were being made, the internal fittings of the store were also altered, giving much larger space, and 'embracing three long counters on the west, wouth and least sides with shelves around the three walls, replete with a stock of goods equal to any on King street. A change was also made in the firm, and since that date no effort has been lacking on the part of Messrs. William H. Dow & Co. to import stock which can be recommended to the public. Within the past few years the trade in confectionary has increased so much that it is now considered one of the most important business in the city, and outsiders would be subprised to hear of the large amount of capital required, and the number of people who find employment in the various establishments in this city. To speak, however, of individual firms, we find first on the record in teas, confectionaries and general groceries, the establishment of that live gental business man, Mr. Edward Lawson, sign of The Queen, and situate at No. 93 King street, near Church. The house is large and commodious, the lower of underground portion being devoted to the manufacture of biscuits. the demand for which has increased yearly. In this department a number of hands are engaged, and in the manufacture of bisculfa every care is exercised in order to ensure satisfaction and palatableness as articles of food. The flour, it is needless to say, is the best to be found in the market. In the store on the first flat will be found an extensive assortment of general groceries, teas, sugars, &c., which are of excellent quality, and can be relied as being pure and unadulterated. The operation of baking is somewhat the same as the other manufactories, and to see the cakes placed in the oven, thin and unsubstantial as they appear, and then to witness them coming out plump, round, appetizing Boston crackers, creates in the mind of the spectator the momentry idea that what he saw put in, and what he sees taken out cannot be one and the same thing. The greatest care is taken to keep the flour, dough, the oven, &c., free from all extraneous substances, and to this as well as to other causes may be traced the reputation which the products of his establishment have acquired in the Dominion. As with biscuits and crackers, so with confectionery, and with machinery of the latest invention and most modern appliances, the confectionery is considered equal to any in findings The firm possess many facilities topoatvorquet their business thorougly, not easily to be found else

In the original organization of the Society the aim of its promoters was to establish an institution for life safe and promoters was to establish an institution for life safe and promable investment of trust, and other funds, from which a regular and permanent half yearly income would be required, obviating any trouble in collection, or incertainty as to time of payment. With this end in view, they based their operations on first-class mortgages on Real Estate; and in ther, to insure regularity of income resolved to declare, out of the profits realized a dividend of ten per cent. and further, to insure regularity of income, test per cent. clare, out of the profits realized, a dividend of ten per cent. annum, payable half yearly, and not to exceed that rate have steadily adhered to. The net which resolution they have steadily adhered to. The net profits of the Society, since its organization, having exceeded profits of the Society, since its organization, having excepted the fixed rate of dividend, the directors have allowed the surplus profits to remain invested, as a Guaranteed Fund, which may be divided, as a bonus, at some future period. During the past two years, the directors have largely increased their sphere of operations, and this, together with the increased facilities offered to borrowers, has caused a large demand on the Society's funds. To meet this demand the directors have resolved to issue a limited number of Capitalized Shares, of fifty dollars each, which shall bear a half-yearly dividend from the date, of subscription. The The shares of this Society are exempt from the usual fluc-tuations which operate so prejudicially on Bank Stock, and as the institution is empowered to purchase its own stock previous to its becoming fixed capital, consequently the Society offers such superior facilities to investors, for realising their capital when required, as is afforded by no other system. The firm first commenced business about ten years ago in a small work shop on Spadina Avenue, but after doing a small but increasing trade for a few years, they added to their establishment by taking a large brick building on Queen St., in front of their shop, and opening out in it a superb stock of furniture. Finding that as time went on that trade continued to roll in upon them in increased volume they rented in addition to their Queen St. store, the very fine warehouse next to Messrs. J. G. The establishments of Savings Banks, where small amounts of money can at any time be deposited and withdrawn, offers to a considerable portion of the community, a boon which can scarcely be over-estimated, and has often been the means of preserving to the depositor a considerable fund, which would otherwise have been uselessly squandered. This and similar institutions have undoubtedly accomplished much good in this respect. The is considerable truth in the well-known adage, Take care of the penca and the pounds will take care of themselves. It is small sums that are recklessly and improvidently wasted, which, if allowed to accumulate and bear interest, would eventually be a handsome amount in the end. By affording those who are not in the position to lay by large sums of money, an opportunity to deposit small amounts, which they can at any time withdraw if they wish, and on which a fair rate of interest will be allowed, the Savings Bank is entitled to rank as a practical benefactor to large classes of our people. The advantage offered in providing for a "rainy day," and laying up the amounts not at present needed against the time of sickness, old age or adversity, should be appreciated by all. There are very few young men in situations that they receive anything like adequate remuneration for their services, who could not spare a few dollars every month to deposit, and even a great many who have a wife and family dependent upon their exertions, by a little occasional self-denial might do the same, and thus contribute greatly to then future advancement and prosperity. It is perhaps hardly necessary for us to to say that the Home Savings Bank possesses every guarantee of stability and security that can be offered. The Commercial Bank, one of soundest monied institutions in Canada, which is located in the adjoining building, being responsible for the safety of all amounts entrusted to the Savings Bank. ALEXANDER HANGEON KING STREET BAST.

To decorate the house is one of the first objects of every family, and for the gratification of this desire there is no place to which one can be referred with more satisfaction than the establishment of Mr. Alexander Hamilton, King Street, east of the St. Lawrence Hall. Mr Hamilton has been a long number of years established in this city, and he is looked on as a man who can be relied upon to do work entrusted to him. The first floor of the house is devoted principally to wall papers, window blind patterns, and other styles of decorate wall paper. The designs from art and from nature are as profuse as a painter could desire, or the most fastidious wish to possess, and in richness and beauty defying description. As a wholesale and retail importer of room papers, dealers will find that Mr. Hamilton's stock is worthy of attention, and also that he is determined by low prices and prompt attention to merit an increased share of patronage. The other branch of this establishment to which we will refer is the house decorating and painting, and is one in which Mr. H. stands prominently successful, not only from his own knowledge of the business, but also from the first-rate class of workmen that he employs. It only remains to add, that any order with which he may be favored will be carried out in such a manner as to give that satisfaction which alone is an inducement for citizens to patronize the establishment, a sent to me not all the guivel but the firm of Messrs, G. W. Gates & Co., who, for some years past carried on a large and prosperous business in this cily, are just now selling a new machine -one of Canadian ingenuity—which for reliability, care, quietness of movement, and real worth, has a strong claim for patronage on the part of the Canadian public. The machine, known as the "Queen's Elliptic," is adapted to a very wide range of purposes for family sewing, and possesses points, of exactience and acknowledged merit, of which a short notice may not be out of place. The deen's Elliptic" makes the elliptic twisted lock stitch, being beautiful, durable and elastic and will perform every description of sewing without readjustment. It is claimed that the thread will not rip or revel though every fourth stitch be cut. Its principle of stension is different from others, no loose loops being left to to doubled up into the seam by the formation of the sucdeeding one. It sews directly from the common spool, no. winding of bobbins or filling of shuttles, being a great sav. ing of time and labour. It has a underfeed, instead of an apper, which gives it the great advantage of carrying all kinds of goods under the needle, which is a very important thing in doing all kinds of work, and in stitching curved seams. It has a self-adjustable yielding pressure foot, which will pass from the finest cambric to the heaviest woollen goods, and it will hem-fell, tuck, bind, run, quilt, braid and embroider in the most superior manner. It is impossible for this machine to drop a stitch with the new revolving looper, while other cheap machines are liable to skip or drop stitches whenever the work is uneven or when it is necessary to run one seam across another. The great advantage in this machine, consists in using the rewolving book, instead of the rack motion looper which goes forward half way and then back, and is highle to drop astitches in changing fabrics or going over cross seams. All this is remedied by using the revolver looper in Itecannot be excelled for beauty of states, elegaticity of stam being adapted to all fabrics, are free from liability to break in washing, ironing or wear. BARBER BROS., STREETSVILLE.

The rapid progress that Canada woollen manufactures have made during the past ten years, has not only surpassed that of our American cousins, but has, we truly believe, tempted our own people to be vain over the fact. Instead of our wholesale merchants being compelled to go for such goods to the United States and England, we find the tables turned, and the Amefrean merchant is only too glad, not only to come over here and buy a stock from the mill, but actually to pay a high price to secure every piece of goods that some of our mills can't make. It must be a matter of pride, therefore, to us Canadians to know we can turn out all our own country, wool cloths, Canada tweeds, flannels and blankets that are equal to any ever made. Such are the styles of goods manufactured at the extensive woollen mills of Messrs. Bartin Bros. of Streetsville, a pleasant village situated about seven miles from the Port Credit station of the Great Western, and twentytwo miles distant from the metropolis of Ontario. A visit to the mills will not only be satisfactory but instructive, and to purchasers of goods we can assure them that they will find the firm one of the most liberal in the Dominion.

The fur trade and the different branches of commerce connected with it, is one of peculiar interest to Canadians, as being perhaps the earliest industrial pursuit carried on in 'he provinces now included in the new Dominion, and the chilf object of the hardy pioneers who first pushed their way into the primeval forest in advance of the march of civilization, and though the fur-bearing animals are nearly extinct in the settled portions of the country, the backwoods and the immense regions stretching to the north and west still furnish the hunter and the trapper with the objects of their adventurous calling and continue to supply our markets with the rich and varied products of the chase. Notwithstanding the encroachments of civilization and the continual thinning out of the fur-producing animals, it is probable that for many years to come British America will continue to be one of the chief countries from which the supply of fur is derived. The establishment of Messes. J. Gillespie & Co. is one of the principal stores of this description in Toronto. It is well located in the business por tion of the city, in a fine new building of white brick, faced with stone on the lower story. The portion occupied by them is situated directly on the corner of Yonge and Melinda streets, and has a frontage of twenty-five feet on the former, extending seventy feet to the rear. The building is three stories in height, exclusive of a large basement, which is used as a pack ing and cutting room, and for the reception of case goods. The offices, general and private, are conveniently situated on the ground floor, in therear of the building. The remainder of the first flat is occupied by felt goods of which there is a fine display: This forms the principal branch of the business, and the firm have a full and carefully selected assortment which will well repay inspection. The second story is mainly devoted to straw goods, which are also to be seen displayed in every variety. The third flat contains the fur goods which appear to great advantage and the stock on hand comprises everything in demand in this line, and is unsurpassed for quality and richness. A new patent hoist is in use, constructed on the dumb waiter principle. It is eased in and has doors opening onto each flat, and is found to be a great convenience. The present firm are successors to Thompson & Morrison, who for many years carried on a large and successful business as provision and commission merchants in this city. On the retirement of Mr. Thompson the firm was continued under the present proprietors, who, by their universal attention to ale orders left in their hands, and their untiring energy havel acquired for themselves the respect of all who know them, no better evidence of which can be given than the fact of their rapidly increasing business. The premises occupy a frontage of 28 feet on Front street by 75 feet in depth, the different departments of which are admirably arranged for the carrying on of the business, the principal part of which consists of curing pork; packing eggs for exportation, and buying and selling every description of grain and provisions on commission. The basement is used as a shipping warehouse and store-room for hams, eggs and flour, of which description of goods the firm ship a large quantity yearly. The room above are use as a storage department, The cellars are fitted up as a curing department, where vats and all the necessary commodities for cutting up and pickling pork are on hand. A large smoke-house in connection with the establishment is on Queen st., where the pork, after having been salted, is sent for curing. The proprietors always obtain the highest price in the market for cured meats, and during the summer are principally engaged in packing eggs, doing probably in the line the largest trade in the Province, over 1,000 barrels having been shipped by them this season. The traveller proceeding along Front street, and taking notice of the various buildings which meets his view in this direction, cannot fail to remark particularly a handsome, substantial structure on the corner of Church and Front streets, fronting on the latter. It is built of white brick, and its liandsome finish and imposing appearance render it one of the finest buildings for the purpose in the city. It measures 58 by 100 feet, and is the property of Messrs. Wm. & Robert Griffith, wholesale grocers and liquor dealers, and was purchased and entirely renovated by them expressly for the purposes of their business, and there is not a more commodious or better arranged establishment in the grocery line. The facilities for doing a large trade are unequalled, and the result is that the business of the firm is in a highly flourishing condition. The office. shipping and sample rooms are situated in convenient positions in the store, and are well and handsomely fitted up. Looking around we notice huge piles of tea-chests full of their important staple of the grocer's trade. The firm show a particularly extensive and well-assorted stock of teas of the best quality, and the other portions of their stock-in-trade are also of the best description. A large cellar underneath the building contains figuors and wines of various descriptions, which in quality and price are in keeping with the rest of the establishment. The enterprise and energy displayed by such firms as that of Messrs. W. & R. Griffith is fast revolutionizing the trade of Toronto and the west. They import direct from the old country, instead of getting their goods through Montreal as was formerly the 'all most universal practice. The effect of this is that the trade of the West instead of going entirely to Montreal, is becoming more and more centred in Toronto, and contributing to build up the capital of Ontario, instead of going to enrich the East. The talent for business and the enterprising spirit exhibited by Messrs. W. & R. Griffith in this matter is highly commendable, and their examble in this respect will, no doubt, be largely for lowed, as by this means the wholesale men are enabled to present better and cheaper goods to their retail customers than if they continued to rely upon Montreal for their supplies.

Not many years since photography was unknown, and when Daguerre first brought out the daguerretype system; the world was unanimous in pronouncing it one of the most scientific and beautiful processes for obtaining life like portraits that had over been discovered. At that time the process of daguerreotyping, which is now nearly done away: with was exceedingly expensive, in some instances as much as two or three guineas being paid for a small likeness. One of the disadvantages of this system was that, in course of o time, the likeness would become faded, and also that they were liable to the effects of weather. This difficulty hasw been overcome by the discovery of the beautiful art of phoe tography, by which the likeness of any one can be taken by a process not only endurable, but at a triffing expense! Then carrying out of the process is, however, very difficult, and unless it is done by a professor of the art, the likeness frequenters ly proves a failure. The firm of John Charlesworth & Co. has been established for the last ten years, at first by the present proprietor of the firm himself. The business that they carry on is pushed on with a vim and energy characteristic of theroughly enterprising house, and they are long and familiarly known to western merchants as being a firm that can be relied on in making purchases. Their extensive premises are situated on Yonge street, west side, near Wellington, and have a frontage of fifty feet, and extends back a distance of over seventy feet, in the rear of which there is a large yard, with sheds for the purpose of passing out goods in rear. The first flat is occupied as the general business department, where heavy goods of all descriptions, cottons, small wares, hoseries and staplings are kept, the office being in the rear. The second room is filled with all descriptions of libbons, hosiery, dress goods and fancy goods. Ascending to the second flat, you enter a department in which will be found flowers, feathers, straw hats, bonnets, mantles, mantle-trimmings, shawls, Berlin wool. goods, felt hats, bonnet fronts, and millinery trimmings. On descending by a different staircase, you enter another department, where all kinds of cloths, neckties, braces, tailors' trimmings, &c., can be obtained, and adjoining this is the manufacturing mantle and cutting room. Below this, on the first floor, is the packing and receiving room. Experienced buyers are constantly in the European markets, and every steamer brings out an assortment of goods, such as will suit the requirements of the trade of Canada. Western merchants who may favour the house with a call will find a large and excellent assortment of goods equal to that of any house in the city, and at prices which cannot fail to command attention. Like all who succeed in business enprises, the house of Charlesworth & Co. have attained their present position in the commercial world to day by the unremitting attention which they bestowed on their business. and the persistent application by which they have mastered every detail, and made themselves thoroughly conversant with the principles of the trade.
